PEGASUS FLIGHT OPERATIONS

PRESENTS

WINTER SURVIVAL 2008

February 16th - 17th

Madison County, Virginia

UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA HEALTH SYSTEM

The morning of Saturday, February 16th will consist of classroom training at the DoubleTree Hotel in Charlottesville, Virginia. The following topics are being covered:

Emergency Mental Preparedness

Wilderness Nutrition

Flight Safety Procedures

Flight Following and Dispatch Preparedness

Forming a Post Accident Incident Plan

Shelter Construction Techniques and Materials

Fire Starting Equipment

Emergency Signaling

The Saturday afternoon session will consist of field exercises and overnight training on private land in the mountains of Madison County. This property is bordered by the Shenandoah National Park and tends to run 10-15 degrees cooler than the nearby urban areas. Weather is unpredictable, so please come prepared! Emergency equipment that is generally found on the aircraft will be provided to you for utilization. Participants should bring their normal personal survival equipment and a sleeping bag. The wearing of your official work uniform is strongly encouraged to enhance the realism of your overall experience. Once you are registered you will receive an official confirmation via email with a detailed outline of everything you will need to bring with you.

Course Fees: $175.00

Course fee includes: Instructional materials, survival memorabilia, supplies and food for the entire weekend. The Madison Women's Auxiliary is graciously catering a breakfast for everyone Sunday morning during the course wrap up session. Additional information can be obtained by emailing Heather Yanek at:
