

University of Virginia
Center for Global Health
 To alleviate the diseases of poverty

CGH University Scholar Award Recipients 2001-2002

	Name	Year/Major	Project Title	Target Country
1	Breyette Lorntz	Doctoral Candidate, Education	Early Childhood Diarrhea Predicts Impaired School Functioning 6-10 Years Later	Brazil
2	Christine Wilder	3 rd year, School of Medicine	Environmental Medicine	South Africa
3	Rosalind de Lisser	Graduate Student, Psychiatric Nursing	AIDS support in Brazil	Brazil
4	Celeste Delgado-Librero	Graduate Student, Spanish	Nursing Students without Borders	El Salvador
5	Ameet Sarpatwari	3 rd year, Interdisciplinary Major in International Health	Global Health: An Analysis of the Local Environment and Use of Indigenous Medicines on Human Health in Rural South Africa	South Africa
6	Duza Baba	3 rd year, Chemistry	The Application of the Protection Motivation Theory in a Non-Western Setting: Preventing AIDS by changing Behavior	Nigeria
7	Emily Esmaili	4 th year, Religious Studies	The Body, Plants, and Spirit in Traditional Medicine of the Himalayas	India
8	Frances Garrett	7 th year, Religious Studies	A Digital Library Collection on Tibetan Medicinal Herbs	Tibet
9	Greg Payne	3 rd year, Anthropology and Spanish	Oral Rehydration Therapy (ORT) in Andean Bolivia: If ORT is Available, Why are Children Still Dying?	Bolivia
10	Jessica Troell	2 nd year, Law	Water Rights in the Limpopo Watershed: Improving Understanding and Equity	South Africa
11	Joel Adriance	1 st year, undeclared	Health Focused Radio: Mass Communications as a Tool for Health Education	Ecuador
12	Katie Gillespie	4 th year, Anthropology	Understanding Sexual Violence in South Africa: a study of two environments in the Northern Province	South Africa
13	Kristen Gelder	4 th year, Foreign Affairs	How Poverty Affects the Quality of Education in South Africa	South Africa
14	Lilly Schott	4 th year, Latin American Studies and French Language	Malian Midwives: Community Education and Success.	Mali
15	Marquita Decker	2 nd year, Chemistry and Spanish	A culturally sensitive approach to developing systems of midwifery and primary healthcare in isolated and developing areas: investigating the Need and Designing Means of Fulfillment	Mexico and Ecuador
16	Meriwether Anderson	3 rd year, Nursing	Thailand: Reaching Out to Prostitutes	Thailand
17	Sachin Gupta	2 nd year, Chemistry and Music	The Role of Music in the Healing of Indigenous Ecuadorians	Ecuador
18	Sandra Nichols	2 nd year, Law	Water Rights in the Limpopo Watershed: Improving Understanding and Equity	South Africa
19	Vicky Jones	2 nd year, Anthropology	Social Science and Medicine in the Philippines: A Case Study of Filipino Youth	Philippines
20	Wynn Nyane	2 nd year, Government and Foreign Affairs	The Forgotten	Thailand

The Center for Global Health
 The Corner Building – UVA – Charlottesville, VA – 22908
 Phone: 434.243.6237 / FAX: 434.924.5994