

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF 2006 PHARMACY PRACTICE RESIDENTS

Sara Cooper, Pharm.D.

Dr. Cooper is a graduate of the Medical University of South Carolina College of Pharmacy, where she earned her Pharm.D. Degree in 2006. Her current areas of interest are critical care, internal medicine, and cardiology. Dr. Cooper's residency project will evaluate the pharmacist's role in medication discharge reconciliation and counseling in the Thoracic Cardiovascular Post Operative Unit. Upon completion of the Pharmacy Practice Residency, she plans to complete a specialized residency or pursue a career as a clinical pharmacist.

Sara Fletcher, Pharm.D.

Dr. Fletcher is a graduate of Auburn University Harrison School of Pharmacy, where she earned her Pharm.D. Degree in 2006. Her current areas of interest include infectious diseases and internal medicine. Dr. Fletcher's residency project will evaluate hyperglycemia and adherence to insulin infusion protocols in critically ill patients. Upon completion of the pharmacy practice residency, she plans to pursue a specialized residency or a career as a clinical pharmacist.

Julie King, Pharm.D.

Dr. King is a graduate of Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama, where she earned her Pharm.D. Degree in May 2006. Her current areas of interest include pediatrics and hematology/oncology. Dr. King's residency project will compare the efficacy of the combination therapy furosemide plus chlorothiazide to furosemide infusions alone in neonates after cardiac surgery. Upon completion of the Pharmacy Practice Residency, she plans to complete a specialized residency or pursue a career as a clinical pharmacist.

Katharine McGrath, Pharm.D.

Dr. McGrath is a graduate of Duquesne University, where she earned her Pharm.D. Degree in May 2006. Her current interests are hematology/oncology and critical care. Dr. McGrath's residency project will evaluate the use of quetiapine in the critically ill. Upon completion of the pharmacy practice residency, she plans to pursue a specialized residency or a clinical pharmacist position within a tertiary care hospital setting.

Hannah Palmer, Pharm.D.

Dr. Palmer is a graduate of the University of Florida College of pharmacy in Gainesville, Florida, where she earned her Pharm.D. Degree in 2006. Her current areas of interest include infectious diseases, pediatric hematology/oncology, and academia. Dr. Palmer's residency project will evaluate pneumonia in the MICU and SICU settings. Upon completion of the Pharmacy Practice residency, she plans to pursue a specialized residency within a tertiary care academic medical center or a position in academia.

The University of Virginia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. UVA is committed to complying fully with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and ensuring equal employment opportunities for qualified persons with disabilities.